PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It was a whirlwind of a tech week before opening night of Amadeus but with a lot of hard work on the part of the cast, Stage Manager/AD Olivia Thrasher, Producers Claudia MacDermott and Suzanne Renaud, and Director Kerr Lockhart, it all came together and turned into an incredibly entertaining performance. Kerr's modern dress adaptation is not to be missed and with only one weekend left, you should get your tickets now, or let your friends and family know, before the final shows are sold out! The efforts put forth by everyone to make this show happen was a reminder that one of the most important resources for a community theater organization is its members. That seems like an obvious statement but perhaps sometimes it needs mentioning and we do have some problems in that area. This is not a new revelation to anyone on the Board or any member who has tried to recruit people in recent years. It was at the top of a list handed to me by my predecessor when I first became president. How to fix this problem has been an ongoing topic of discussion for quite some time. While the Board has some ideas as to where to begin to implement changes, they would like to hear from our current membership before doing so. This Thursday's meeting is going to be, in part, about membership. If I could, I would make attendance a requirement for this meeting but I can't, so instead I strongly encourage you to attend and join in on the discussion. I'm looking forward to hearing everyone's thoughts on this subject. So, before you are told it is a requirement to stay a member, come to the meeting and voice your opinion. I really do hope to see you there!

PGL - TECH NEWS

After last Tuesday's Board meeting, board members decided to purchase an inexpensive, brand new Android tablet to replace the use of aging computer desktops and monitors. Because the computer was only needed to connect to Brown Paper Tickets' website via internet connection, the same could be done with a hand-held tablet, which is smaller, less clunky, and takes up practically no room at all. The tablet has a stand and is WiFi compatible. So, no more tangled cords or power cables - other than the one that comes with it. The tablet arrived last Friday, in time for Amadeus' 2nd week run, and was properly set-up so that it can be used for all ticket sales. The board members would also like to thank Chris Thorn for always being helpful and continuously providing us with a computer desktop and monitor throughout these past years.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT: CHRISTOPHER MILONE

At a very early age Christopher, better known as Chris, started his love of theater by taking acting classes at the Leonia Recreation Department with current Guild member Helene Marshall. Chris' adventure with the Players Guild of Leonia started in 1981 when he first performed as an ensemble cast member with the Guild's The Play in the Park production of Fiddler on the Roof. After this memorable experience, he was hooked with theater and became an active member of the Guild. He was only 16 and has since then acted in numerous productions, which are too many to mention. But some of his favorite shows are West Side Story, Brighton Beach Memoirs, A Chorus Line, You're a Good Man Charlie Brown, An Actor's Nightmare and Working. Besides being a talented actor, Chris also has served as committee chairperson for hand props, set painting, and ticket sales. Chris has served on the PGL Board for two terms and has also directed several shows including - the most recent 2018 Perry Award nominated hit Neil Simon's Lost in Yonkers. The Players Guild of Leonia has been a big part of Christopher Milone's life with many "ups and downs", but mostly positive experiences. He is glad to be part of the Guild's continuous journey and would like to wish them a happy 100th Anniversary as well as positive wishes for another 100 years of continuous success.
